DIANTHUS BEATRIX

No plant of late years is so popular or such a sensation as this fragrant pink.

THREE GARDEN GEMS YOU SHOULD GROW

DIANTHUS BEATRIX—A strong, compact grower; fine to use either as a border or in a bed. Last year our sales ran into thousands of plants, and this year finds the demand increasing. The plant is of easy culture and blooms almost constantly. The flower, which is salmon pink in color, has a spicy, carnation-like fragrance, and is borne on stiff stems, lasting for days when cut. Ask to see them when visiting our salesrooms. Fine grown plants, just starting to bloom:

2½" Pots, per dozen, $1.50

PENTSTEMON—A fine new stock of these perennials are all ready for planting now. Four colors from which to make selections—Lavender, White, Pink, and Sierra Madre (red). These are most effective in the gardens, with their tall spikes of bell-shaped flower. Blooming almost constantly during the summer months, and often lasting late into the fall and early winter. These plants are very hardy and practically free from all pests. You should have these in your garden.

Growing in 3" Pots (4 colors), dozen, $1.25

COLEUS—These most decorative plants are one of the most colorful of all foliage plants. When used in the garden, their colorful leaves make a most brilliant effect. They can be used as individual plants or in larger gardens for mass effect. They also make very satisfactory pot plants, and are very effective to use in the semi-shaded parts of a patio or garden. We have a collection of these which is perhaps the finest in Southern California, having selected them for propagation for many seasons. These are grown in three sizes:

2" Pots, per dozen, $1.00

3" Pots, per dozen, $1.50

4" Pots, per dozen, $2.50

Ask to see these when visiting our Nurseries.
